Our Range

Our Pad Production Unit manufactures high-quality, affordable, one-time-use sanitary pads tailored for communities where reusable options are not viable due to water shortages.

Our manufacturing process covers sourcing, cutting, shaping, assembly, quality control, and packaging. We coordinate closely with our sales and program teams to ensure that pads reach women who need them most.

We also produce maternity pads, pads that provide extra absorbency and comfort for postpartum bleeding designed specifically for postpartum care, addressing a critical gap in women's health.
